Polish Chief Complains "Il-lusory Frontier" Desig-nated by Allies Is Worth Nothing to Republic.

LETVIA AGREES TO RIGA PEACE MEETING

Galicia Fighting Reported to Favor Poles; Moscow, However, Claims Successes in Vicinity of Lemberg.

By the Associated Press.
WARSAW, Aug. 30.—Letvian has agreed to permit Poland and Soviet Russia to transfer the Minsk Peace Conference to Riga. This was done on request of the Poles.

Both the Polish and Russian Soviet delegates plan to resume the peace negotiations within a week, probably at Riga, says a wireless message from Minsk.

By the Associated Press.
WARSAW, Aug. 29.—President Pilsudski, in a statement to the Polish press, declares that the front designated by the allies on Dec. 8 as Poland's Eastern frontier, is from a strategic point of view, worth nothing to the republic.

The Polish President goes on to say that there are only two solutions either to march forward and crush the Reds or to wait until the Poles in another tone, or remain on the illusory frontier and conclude peace as promptly as possible.

"The Poles must make a decision prompt and energetic," he con-siders. "There is no time to lose. It is not easy to inflame the Poles, and they are becoming cool already. We must not delude ourselves even if we sign, since we should always remain an object of Russian aggression."

President Pilsudski points out that an abnormal situation has arisen and that the entire front of the Poles by force of events has been turned toward the Russian frontier. "In its rear and its flank are the directions of Russia," he adds, "and we must bring it back to a natural state. I am convinced that the Russians have not renounced their intentions of attacking us further."

"Our friends desire that the Poles shall remain stationary on the Eastern front, maintaining a purely defensive attitude. My opinion is that this is impossible. How can Poland, with its small army, badly equipped, remain on a fixed front of hundreds of miles? Such lines should have been and are being rows of barbed wire and to carry sufficient wire to the lines would occupy the entire railroad system for months."

chise and held up my hands and surrendered. Neither Parr nor I did any of the shooting."

As he stepped from the car, Burke said, the two men from the Ford approached and one said: "Come on." Both had revolvers in their hands. Burke said:

"One kept us covered," Burke continued, "and the other walked around to the rear of our car and ordered Parr out. He brought Parr around to where I was standing. Then Millard opened fire again. Corner returned the fire. About that time Corner grunted and said to Corner: 'You'll have to take them up the hill. I'm gone.' Corner said to Parr and me: 'Keep your hands up and no tricks.' Corner was still standing."

"Parr was to the left of Corner and I was on Corner's right side. We had gone about 10 feet when we heard a shot fired from behind us and Corner turned and fired back. He said: 'God, that was a dirty trick,' and then told us to hurry. We only explained to him for his remark is that he must have been shot in the back by Millard. Corner staggered along toward a house and said: 'Boys, we've got to get these people out in a hurry.' When we reached the house he kicked the door and then disappeared.

Collapses at Door of House.
"You'll have to get them out yourself," he said to us. "I've done my duty and I'm done for. Then he fell."

Burke said that after Corner collapsed, they knocked on the windows and doors of the house without obtaining response, whereupon Parr said: "Oh hell, let's run." Burke said they then ran to the north. He said that he wanted to return to his home, but Parr insisted he accompany him to his rooming house at 502A Page boulevard, and after a while, he acquiesced. Burke could not describe their route except that it was through fields, past the plant of the Wagner Electric Manufacturing Co. and finally to the Page boulevard house, where they were arrested.

It will be remembered that official examination of the body showed that Corner was shot in the back. He fell and died in front of C. C. McElhinney's residence, 448 Forsythe boulevard, where there were three doors out of his own home, 451 Forsythe boulevard.

As Burke told his story, Parr from

Election Board Prepares for Many Questions at Registration of Women

Status of American Women Who Married Foreigners Explained in Ruling by Naturalization Examiner Here.

Officials of the Board of Election Commissioners said today that they anticipated that the registration of women for the first time at the general registration of voters, Sept. 13, 14, 15, and 16, would bring before the commissioners many new questions for rulings, one of which will be whether, at time of registration, a woman shall be required to state her exact age.

Chairman Arnold expressed the opinion that it would be sufficient for a woman to answer that she was more than 21 years old, and that reply would constitute compliance with the law. However, the State law specifies that in St. Louis the age of the applicant shall be entered on the registration books.

Disputes from Kansas City today quoted Louis Oppenheimer, a member of City Board of Election Commissioners, to the effect that election judges in Kansas City would be cautioned not to require women to state their exact ages when applying for registration. The registration laws applicable to Kansas City do not require entry on the registration books of the age of the applicant, merely requiring in that respect that there be a notation whether he is a qualified voter.

Peculiar Condition Noted.
A recent ruling by M. R. Bevington, chief naturalization officer in St. Louis, has disclosed peculiar conditions surrounding the registration of voters. Under Bevington's ruling:

An American-born woman married to an American-born or naturalized citizen can vote.

An American-born woman married to a foreigner who has taken out his first papers, but has not completed his citizenship, cannot vote.

A foreign-born woman married to either an American-born or naturalized citizen can vote.

sume it until he completes his naturalization.

Under the law the American wife of an alien cannot take out citizenship papers and her citizenship thus depends entirely upon her husband's desire to become a citizen.

Many Questions Asked.
At time of registration women applicants to register will be asked the questions by the election judges that are asked of men. The replies will be entered in columns on the registration books prepared for that purpose. The reason for the questions is to provide a record of the first shooting, here a block of the men and the second Conroy lying dead in front of his automobile. A larger automobile stood near. Bender said that he stood and recognized Conroy and that when he arose a revolver was standing near him. This man, he said, stooped over Conroy's body and picked up a revolver which had been lying under the body, after which he jumped in the larger automobile and drove away. It is known that Millard fled in his automobile after the shooting.

William R. Walton, a St. Louis city detective, testified as to statements made by Parr and Burke at the Page boulevard station. He said they told him they knew the men who stopped them were officers. In reply to a question on this point, he said they answered: "Sure, we knew them. They were officers. We were registered men voters in St. Louis. It is the expectation the September registration will increase this number to approximately 175,000. This number of women who will register cannot be estimated. Some election officials have guessed it would be as high as 100,000, while others place the number as low as 60,000.

heard several shots fired east of them while they were on his front porch. They stepped back into the front hall and looked out through a screen door. The moon was shining very brightly.

A few minutes after the first shooting, Rothwhite said, he saw Marshall Corner, whom he knew, come into the middle of Forsythe boulevard marching two men ahead of him. Both these men had their hands up. About the time the three passed his house, he said, he saw a fourth man also coming. He said he was on the opposite sidewalk on the north side of the street, and when first seen he was about 75 feet behind Corner and his prisoners.

Man Moved Stealthily.
This man was moving stealthily and darting from one tree to another, to keep in the shadows. Rothwhite testified. He was moving faster than the three others and apparently sneaking up on them. When he came to the last of a line of large trees he halted for an instant and then ran into the street in plain view toward Corner. All the men at that time had passed Rothwhite's home and were to the west of it.

As the man ran from behind the tree, Rothwhite testified, he heard the sound of a shot. He said he replied: "They're up." He then heard two shots, but could not see who fired them, as all of the men had passed out of his range of view. He judged that the prisoners must have been in about 30 feet of Corner when the shots were fired.

A few minutes later the man who had been tracking Corner returned, walking east on Forsythe boulevard. Rothwhite's testimony that he heard two shots fired in agreement with the statement of Parr and Burke that Millard sneaked up behind and fired a shot at Corner and that Corner turned and fired a shot.

Mr. Lucinda E. Kelsey of 611 Forsythe boulevard, which is 125 feet west of the place where the shooting started, testified that she heard automobiles stop at Jackson avenue and a few seconds later heard a voice say: "Hold up your hands," and another voice reply: "You've got the wrong man." She then heard the first voice say: "You're my prisoner; get out of these damned quick." She heard six or eight shots and then saw Marshall Corner marching two men up the street. Behind them on the opposite sidewalk she saw a fourth man, and after he had passed her house she heard two shots and saw this man come back down the street.

Shells Found in Road.
Her daughter, Miss Myrene Kelsey, corroborated her testimony and said that as the fourth man was passing her home she saw him stoop. She at first thought he was about to pick up a stone, but she then observed that he was loading his revolver. A loaded shell and several empty ones later were found at this point.

Miss Celeste Eason, daughter of former Congressman Fred Eason, whose home is half a block north of the place where the shooting started, testified that she heard loud talking and several shots. As was told in yesterday's Post-Dispatch, she heard someone say: "Put 'em up," and someone answered: "Put 'em up yourself." She telephoned to Sheriff's office, and the chase after Millard began.

Henry Bender of 553 Forsythe boulevard identified Parr and Burke as the men he saw being marched up the street by Corner after the first shooting. He testified that they passed his house he heard Corner

REWORKED RAGS REPLACING VIRGIN WOOL IN CLOTHING

Storehouses Filled With 4,000,000 Pounds of New Wool White Manufacturers Use Shoddy.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Reworked rags are replacing virgin wool in the cloth of manufacturers, according to what was disclosed at the annual convention of the National Sheep and Wool Bureau of America in session here.

President Alexander Walker, predicted that there would be a still further decline in the use of wool this year than the 113,000 fewer pounds of virgin wool used last year in textile mills than in 1918. He said there were more than 4,000,000 pounds of virgin wool in storehouses.

The chief substitute is shoddy, old rags, reworked in some cases as often as eight times," said Byron Wilson, Secretary of the Wyoming Wool Growers' Association.

The French-Caper "trash in fabric" bill, compelling manufacturers to stamp every yard of cloth with its content of virgin wool and other material was indorsed.

"If you pull your hands down I will blow your heads off," Bender said he saw a fourth man on the north sidewalk about 100 feet farther back. This man, he said, was standing and looking at him. He drew a parallel between the present conditions and those following the Civil War, and touched on the possibility of giving former service men homes on reclaimed Government lands.

Fourteen states were represented on the list of visitors, which included not only Governors but several former Governors and gubernatorial nominees. Their reception was timed for shortly before noon, and after the Senator's speech the entire party was invited as guests at a G. A. R. picnic.

Among the State chief executives who accepted invitations to attend were two of Senator Harding's opponents for the presidential nomination, Govs. William C. Sproul of Pennsylvania. The other Governors included in the party were Emanuel L. Philipp of Wisconsin; Peter Norbeck of South Dakota; Samuel R. McElwain of Nebraska; William D. Stephens of California; R. Livingston Beekman of Rhode Island; Thomas E. Campbell of Arizona; and Robert D. Carey of Wyoming.

Former Gov. William Spry of Utah and the following Republican nominees for Governor also had arranged to attend: E. F. Morgan, West Virginia; Arthur M. Hyde, Missouri; and J. A. O. Preuss, Minnesota.

More Federal Aid in Reclaiming and conserving the nation's natural resources, particularly in the West, was advocated by Senator Harding. He pictured the West as a part of agricultural and industrial reconstruction policy former service men might be furnished homes on reclaimed western lands.

Quoting Theodore Roosevelt's reclamation policies, Senator Harding declared one of the greatest tasks in the immediate future was to take up again the reclamation and conservation work fostered by Roosevelt and neglected, he said, since the Democrats came into power.

Important, Urgent Problem.
"We have come to an era," Senator Harding said, "when further development of the West is a problem of conservation is an important and urgent problem. We must ever continue the enlargement of the available food supply."

"There is an ever increasing mountain West awaiting the touch of genius and industry and there are doubtless thousands of service men who would be glad to turn to this most desirable development, very much as service men did in the early period of the Civil War."

"There are, of course, differences in condition, and the mountain lands are not so ready to answer man's demand as the fertile lands of the East. After the cards of special prospects have been reserved for the Executive Committee, the remaining cards should be submitted to the division of reclamation, which, in turn, should make a selection of approximately 25 cards each for what might be termed a 'cream list' to be distributed as a favor to the team captains. The balance of the prospect list should be thrown open to the team workers at a special luncheon meeting."

"The assumption is that the team captains are to have the cream, and the team workers the skimmed milk," the "specifications" found.

"To facilitate the organization of teams, the chairman and the Executive Committee should prepare a list of Republican business men who will promise to give at least two hours a day for a week."

"That the national headquarters is to be in touch with what is going on in every community is evidenced by this assurance."

"Arrange a dinner to which all prospects shall be invited. The national headquarters will furnish a speaker of national reputation to inform and enthrall."

"Further proof of concealment of facts is afforded by these words: 'Large subscriptions might well be reported piecemeal daily at the luncheon, each liberal subscription being reported without the name of the subscriber.'"

"That the whole procedure had been an affair intended only for the eyes of the money-digging machine is thoroughly established in another precaution as to secrecy. It is couched in these terms: 'No instructions to team captains or workers should be printed, as care must be used that nothing is left on tables at luncheons or dinners that might fall into the hands of anyone that might give publicity to such material.'"

"Contrasting this official document from the Republican national headquarters with the statement Mr. Hays yesterday made under oath, I cannot believe a single word he says on this whole subject. That he has been caught in his own trap is evident. The senatorial committee should summon without delay the State chairmen who have been in charge of raising money. They should be asked to bring all documents with them, and they should be compelled to submit, as well, the names of the chairmen, in the larger cities, and the names of the contributors, both principals and dummies. The spotlight should be thrown on the activities of all political parties, and it should be kept there intensively until election day."

"Enough is known now, through records from Mr. Hays' headquarters, to convince the public, that, as the head of a great organization, he has deceived the people and that an official hearing defied the truth. Unless the Republican leadership insist on his retirement at once they must accept the consequences." Cox and Roosevelt Speak at State Fair.

Gov. Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, were given a rousing reception at the big coliseum at the Ohio State Fair grounds this afternoon. There were 12,000 persons present.

Roosevelt, fresh from his western tour, told of the progress being made by the West. "The people," he declared, "are not going to vote as their grandfathers did. They're not going to vote for one ticket or the other because of things that happened 100 years ago. They're voting their heads, just the same as you are, and as the people in my own State are."

GOVERNORS HEAR HARDING SPEAK ON CONSERVATION

Senator Suggests Undeveloped Mountain West Awaits Touch of Genius of Former Service Men.

By the Associated Press.

MARION, O., Aug. 31.—Republican Governors heard their turn today on Senator Harding's front porch, journeying to Marion to pay their respects to the Republican nominee and to hear an address by him on reclamation and conservation of the nation's natural resources.

The need of an after-war reconstruction policy to rehabilitate industry and open new fields of enterprise, particularly in the West, was stressed by Senator Harding in the address prepared for the occasion. He drew a parallel between present conditions and those following the Civil War, and touched on the possibility of giving former service men homes on reclaimed Government lands.

DEPUTY WHO WAS FOR SCHMOLL DISCHARGED BY MOHRSTADT

Harry T. Jacobs of Marshall's Staff Says Superior Warned Him to "Get Right" on Sheriff Race.

Harry L. Jacobs, 3618 Alberta street, who, since 1917, had been a deputy under City Marshal Mohrstadt, who defeated John Schmoll in the primary for the Republican nomination for Sheriff, received notice today signed with Mohrstadt's name that his services would not be required after today.

Jacobs is treasurer of the Thirtieth Ward Republican Club, of which Schmoll is president. He declared that early last July Mohrstadt called him to his office and told him to "get right" on the race for Sheriff, but that he told Mohrstadt that he was for Schmoll, who he said he must be a fool 10 days to reconsider," Mohrstadt replied, according to Jacobs.

Chief Deputy Louis Huber, who delivered the letter of discharge, said that he did not know the reason. Mohrstadt was not in his office when a Post-Dispatch reporter inquired for him.

The people is not monopolized for private enrichment. In a somewhat different manner, the same principle will apply to our other natural resources. Emphasis must be placed upon their use rather than upon their storage, only providing for present needs, must keep an ever watchful guard upon their preservation for the need of generations yet to come.

West a country of homes for people who need homes. It has everything that thousands of those who in the world will be eager to participate in the development of the west. We owe to them the fullest and widest opportunities, and we owe it to them to give of Government encouragement and aid in bringing about the development so much to be desired.

"In some places private capital, in others public funds, can best do the work that is required. I would not hesitate to employ Federal aid for certain types of reclamation work, and on the other side I would not stand in the way of having that work done by private enterprise, if this seemed best."

ranging from $5000 and upwards. In any case, it is absolutely necessary, first of all, to 'sell' to this committee the quota and the campaign plans."

"City Size of St. Louis."
The very preface of the document shows two things. First, the subscriptions were to be sought from $5000 upwards and that the 'quota' should be 'sold.' That a minimum of $300,000 in cities of the size of St. Louis, Cleveland and Detroit was the objective is shown by a paragraph in the document, which is as follows:

"In a city the size of St. Louis, Cleveland or Detroit, a gift-pledge list of at least 3000 names should be secured. This list should contain only the names of prospects able to contribute from $100 up."

"This would make, at the lowest calculation, practically one-third of a million dollars in cities of the given size. Then the money diggers are asked to 'secure an estimating committee of big-visioned financial men, instructing them carefully as to the basis upon which to estimate the contribution ability of prospects. After the cards of special prospects have been reserved for the Executive Committee, the remaining cards should be submitted to the division of reclamation, which, in turn, should make a selection of approximately 25 cards each for what might be termed a 'cream list' to be distributed as a favor to the team captains. "I want you fellows to know that I am not an agriculturist. I am a farmer and I am proud of it," the Governor asserted. "It is right that we promoted the height of contentment in the hearts of the farmers' wives," the Governor declared, pleading for more extensive use of labor-saving machinery. "There are more temples of education in the corn fields of Ohio than in any State of the union," he said.

"The Governor discussed scientific farming in the State. 'The State of Ohio,' he said, 'is the largest breeder of pure-bred cattle in the world.'"

FOUR INJURED WHEN TRAIN IS DERAILED

Engine and Three Cars of Missouri Pacific Flyer Leave Track Near Granite Bend.

Three engineers and a woman passenger were injured when the engine and three coaches of Missouri Pacific passenger train No. 2, known as the "Sunshine Special," derailed at 11:30 a. m. today from Granite Bend, 23 miles north of Granite Bluff, Mo.

The injured engineers, all of whom live in St. Louis, are as follows:

100 HOUSES BEGUN BY HOUSING ASSOCIATION

15 Have Been Sold and Others
Will Be Placed on Sale
This Week.

One hundred houses have been started and a number of them finished by the Home and Housing Association. Fifteen houses have been sold. Six are on sale today, 10 more will be on sale within the week and seven in about a month. The experience up to this time has been that a house does not remain unsold more than 10 days after it has been completed.

On account of strikes and labor difficulties, the association has 27 houses behind its schedule of 200 houses for this year. However, it expects to make up for lost time as soon as the present difficulty between the teamsters and material men is settled.

The houses now on sale are three of four rooms each, three of five rooms, all one-story. They are in the 4400 block on Neosho street.

Time Payments Arranged.
The houses vary in price and sales are made on 10 per cent cash payments, with 6 per cent interest on deferred payments. Houses in various parts of the city will be sold for $5500 to $5800.

Of 22 four, five and six room houses on the south side of Marfitt avenue, between Union boulevard and King's highway, 10 will be completed within the week and their purchase may then be negotiated.

Within 30 days, seven five-room homes on Kennerly avenue, west of Hamilton avenue, will be ready, as will 11 five-room and six-room places on both sides of Michigan avenue, between Miami and Winnebago streets. Other houses already finished are located as follows:

Four, of five rooms each, and two, of six rooms, on McCausland avenue, between West Park and Wise avenues; two, of five rooms, at McCausland and West Park avenues, and three, of five rooms, and two, of four rooms, on Blenden place, near the Market street car line.

Others Being Built.

There were six houses started two weeks ago at Joseph and Sutter avenues, St. Louis County, and 25 started at Sutherland and Bancroft avenues, Southampton. Six were started a week ago in Blakemore place, on Kielen avenue, St. Louis County, and four two-family flats were begun in Nicholson place. The erection of flats is a new departure in the program of the Home and Housing Association.

A five-room, two-story type of house seems to be the most popular, and owing to the increased demand for this type, the association plans to build about four times as many five-room houses as any other type. Bids are being received at present for the erection of five and six-room houses on the north side of Marfitt avenue west of Union avenue, and for four and five room houses on the south side of Terry avenue between Goodfellow and Clara avenues.

One advantage of the scheme of payments is that there are no commissions for renewals of loans of extraneous charges. Quite a number of purchasers are paying down sums ranging between 50 and 60 per cent of the purchase price of the property, in this manner avoiding a large portion of interest charges.

WOMEN STORM POLLS AND CARRY SCHOOL BOND ELECTION

Now Issue of Their Right to Vote in Johnson County Contest May Go to Attorney-General.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WARRENSBURG, Mo., Aug. 31.—The women of Kingsville and Jackson Townships, in the Howard and Lone Walnut School Districts, Johnson County, last Tuesday stormed the district polling places and voted in favor of a $4000 bond issue for school purposes. The matter probably will be referred to the Attorney-General for a ruling.

The issue had been hanging fire in the two school districts for many months, whether to build a consolidated school building. The men got nowhere, and an election was called for Aug. 24. The women, who favored the bonds, decided, inasmuch as Tennessee had ratified the suffrage amendment, they had a right to vote, and, over the protest of antibond men in the two districts, voted at the election.

The bonds received more than the necessary two-thirds majority. The anti-brought their protests to the county seat and, to the disappointment of the women who voted the bonds, it was given out that the women of Lone Walnut and Howard districts were a little premature in exercising their right of suffrage.

DEMOCRATIC MOVE IN JAPAN

Abolition of System of Permanent Peasage Proposed.

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, Aug. 31.—Much attention has been attracted to a democratic movement, having as its goal the abolition of the existing system of permanent tenure peasage, according to Miyakol Shimibun, which says that many peers are said to favor the proposed change in the form of a measure which would discontinue class privileges.

922,352 Cars Loaded in Week.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Railroads of the country loaded more cars with commercial freight during the week ended Aug. 14, than during any week this year, according to reports compiled today by the commission on car service. During the week ended Aug. 14, 922,352 cars were loaded compared with 822,429 cars during the corresponding week of 1919, and 943,796 cars in 1918.

Cloth Frocks Are All-Day Frocks

Well Chosen for Early Autumn

COOL mornings, cooler evenings! The all-day costume must carry you through in comfort. The tailored and semi-tailored Frocks of cloth is a most efficient alloy for such weather conditions. In such a costume one goes for a day of shopping or even a semi-formal social function, serenely conscious of being well clothed. Especially desirable for early Autumn wear is this Coat Dress. In the Costume Salon is one of navy tricotine, its surplice waist loose and blousing, and its draped skirt trimmed with stubbed blue wool fringe. The Chemise Dress is noteworthy because of its flying cire satin bound panels, or its beading or embroidery. A tricotine Frock with severely plain waist has a skirt of many panels bloused in Bagdad effect over a heavy black satin drop.

Tricotine, Serge and Twill Cloth Dresses for early Fall days—an almost endless showing at prices satisfactorily economic.

CONTEST OVER CONTROL OF DEMOCRATIC WOMEN

City Committee Disputes Right of Six St. Louis Women to Serve on State Body.

Steps were taken yesterday afternoon by the Democratic City Committee to contest at a meeting of the State Committee in Jefferson City, Sept. 14 the right of six St. Louis women, elected members of the Democratic Women's State Committee under an official call issued by the regular state committee, to take their seats. A resolution was adopted by the city committee demanding that the state organization recognize women who were elected by the men's congressional committees and who are contesting the seats of the others.

The contest back of the controversy is between the Democratic City Committee and the Democratic League of St. Louis to control the women's organization in St. Louis, the members of the men's city committee insisting upon their right to name the members of the women's city committee and through them the St. Louis members of the Women's State Committee.

City Committee Ignored. Late in July Ben M. Neale, then chairman of the State Committee, issued a call authorizing the holding of precinct meetings by the women in all precincts to elect precinct committeewomen, the holding of ward meetings to elect ward committeewomen, and the holding of congressional district meetings to elect state committeewomen. He ignored the City Committee.

Chairman Daley of the City Committee immediately took the position that Neale's call was illegal, and his committee proceeded to the election or appointment of committeewomen. The Democratic League, of which Mrs. Fred A. Reid is president, led the movement to carry out the state committee call and under it committeewomen were elected in a number of wards.

As a result there are contests in the Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth congressional districts for membership on the women's State committee. In the Tenth District Mrs. Reid and Mrs. E. F. Smith were elected under the State committee call, and Mrs. W. H. Allen and Mrs. W. W. Hill under the city committee plan. In the Eleventh District Miss May Shannon and Mrs. Maurice Murray were chosen under the State committee call and Miss Shannon and Mrs. John Lottman under the city committee plan, Miss Shannon holding credentials under both authorities. In the Twelfth District, Mrs. E. M. Grossman and Mrs. M. J. Gill were chosen under the State committee call and Mrs. John O. Rutledge and Miss Anne Carney under the city committee.

Factions Have Clash. The first clash between them came at a meeting of the committee Wednesday, when each of the contesting members was given a half-vote, and a committee was appointed to investigate the facts and report them to a joint committee of the men's and women's State committees in Jefferson City Sept. 14. Reports were received at the meeting yesterday of the work of women who were engaged in a canvass of the city to learn the names and political party affiliations of the new women voters. Some of the committeemen reported that women canvassers had informed them that in several instances doors were slammed in their faces and that some women refused to give the information asked.

Mrs. R. E. Oldfather, chairman of the Women's City Committee, said:

that little trouble was being encountered by the women, and that so far as she could learn the women canvassers were receiving about the same receptions as men canvassers. At some homes they were pleasantly received, she said, and at others information was refused.

PRESIDENT URGES MINERS TO ACCEPT NEW WAGE AWARD

cease to exist in industrial affairs if contracts solemnly entered into can be set aside by either party whenever it will deem best to do so. I am sure that the miners themselves would vigorously protest against the injunction of the act if the President attempted to set aside the award of the commission because the operators had protested against it.

"May I add that I am personally and officially interested in promoting the welfare of every man who has to work for a living. Every influence my administration has been able to exert has been exercised to improve the standards of living of the nation's working men and women without doing any injustice to other portions of our people. A large part of the domestic fuel of the Eastern States is dependent upon the continued operation of the anthracite coal mines. Any prolonged stoppage of production will mean hardships and suffering to many people, including millions of wage workers and their families. If your communication, declaring your intention to refrain from working unless I set aside the award of the Anthracite Coal Commission on or before Sept. 1, 1920, is intended as a threat, you can rest assured that your challenge will be accepted and that the people of the United States will find some substitute fuel to tide them over until the real sentiment of the anthracite mine workers can find expression and they are ready to abide by the obligations they have entered into.

"You are therefore advised that I cannot and will not set aside the judgment of the Commission, and I shall expect the anthracite mine workers to accept the award and carry it into effect in good faith."

PRICE DROPS EXPECTED TO MARK REST OF YEAR

U. S. Chamber of Commerce Report Says Readjustment Will Not Cause Crisis.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Business and industrial conditions during the remainder of the calendar year will be marked by a "definite trend to a somewhat lower level of prices," according to a semiannual report upon crops and business given out by the United States Chamber of Commerce. The committee which prepared the report added the general financial opinion in the country was that the readjustment would be accomplished without "financial disorder or any sudden economic calamity."

Tight money, unrest of labor, the loosened bond in some phases of social life, the Russian-Poland war, and the high cost of necessities are enumerated as disturbing business factors, but in the opinion of the committee there is no need for the country to become panicky over any of these matters.

"Amid all the cross currents and eddies of the industrial situation a definite trend seems to be slowly developing toward a gradually increasing gain of supply upon demand and a somewhat lower level of prices,"

the committee reported. "Here and there mills have shut down. Here and there they are running on reduced time. It is a scattered and local matter rather than a general proposition."

Automobile Industry Showing. "The automobile industry seems to be headed toward somewhat lessened output. Also the jewelry business in New England is slowing down. Contrariwise, paper mills are busy and full of orders. Equally this is true of the metal lines."

"Whether mining is busy and prosperous or the reverse depends upon the nature of the metal. Gold mining still suffers from high cost of production and the stationary price of gold. Silver mining feels the effect of the decline in the price of silver. The price of zinc is low and the demand not equal to the possibilities of supply. Lead is higher because of increased demand. Copper is dull because of a supply not yet disposed of. Iron mining is good. Phosphate mines in the South are doing well after many lean years."

"Contraction in financial credits has put 'widdowatting' in the oil regions out of business, which makes business there dull because supplies for drilling oil wells are no longer called for."

Construction and Building. "Construction and building have slowed down because of high prices and scarcity of both labor and materials."

Mining Has Flock of Troubles. "Coal mining as usual has its flock of troubles, strikes and lack of cars being the principal ones."

"The promise now, and it is almost fulfilled, is for 3,000,000 bushels of corn, 800,000,000 bushels of wheat, both winter and spring, and for a cotton yield of about 12,500,000 bales. Cotton, however, is not a safe reckoning as yet. There will be more oats than last year, and more tobacco, which is everywhere good; more potatoes, more rice, about the largest crop on record; more sugar, both cane and beet, and especially a heavy crop of such proportion as should have a marked effect in reducing the cost of livestock and of dairy and poultry products."

"From every state and every section comes the complaint of the lack of cars as the greatest of all handicaps to the transaction of business and one of the moving causes of the continuance of high prices."

Dr. Reinsch, Adviser to China, Quits

By the Associated Press.
PEKIN, Aug. 31.—Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, former United States Minister to China, has announced his resignation as legal adviser to the Chinese Government. He accepted this position shortly after his resignation last year as American Minister. He will return to the United States.

MOVIE OF REVENGE
FULL OF ACTION

Comedy and Social Dramas Fill
Out Week's Picture Offerings.

"The Mutiny of the Elsinore," which opened at the Kings Theater Sunday, is an optical feast for those who love to visualize scenes from the d-d-blooded writings of the late Jack London. The one feminine role in the picture is portrayed in fine style by Helen Ferguson, and the other stars are Noah Beery, Mitchell Lewis and William V. Monz.

This is the story of a man's long search for the false comrade that "turned him up" and made it necessary for him to serve a long term in prison. The route of the search is devious and leads into strange places. The traitor to the cause of friendship is tracked down at last when he is a member of the crew on a tramp ship in South American waters. The revenge is fast and sure, and reaches its fruition at the climax of a remarkable mutiny scene.

Geraldine Farrar and her husband, Lou Tellegen, are the stars in "The World and Its Woman," which opened Sunday at the Pershing. This is a love story with an old-world flavor. The heroine is eager for fame as an opera singer and she goes to great lengths to achieve her ambition. There is a tangle of strange alliances. One of her admirers is a Prince. In order to bring this love match to a suitable ending it is necessary to kill off the Princess. This is done by revolutionary peasants and, after that, the Prince and the opera singer marry.

West End Lyric Bill.
Dorothy Dalton in "Guilty of Love" leads the bill at the West End Lyric and Lyric Skydome for the first half of the week. This is a rather highly shoddy drama, showing the perils and pitfalls which beset the path of a small-town girl when she accepted a position as governess in a rich New York family. One of the adventures in the courtship of the governess by her employer's brother. Every artifice known to wealth and social caste is used to keep the young folks apart but as often happens in the movies, love conquers all.

At the Lake in "The Mistletoe" is the principal attraction at the Mozart. This is a "society" drama in which a young bride has to demonstrate her fitness to associate with her husband's relatives.

Film of Annette Kellerman.
"What Women Love," the principal offering this week at the New Grand Central, starring Annette Kellerman, famous diver and swimmer, is a comedy which exploits her physical charms and aquatic ability. It includes a number of submarine scenes that are far above the average. The photography is excellent but the cameraman's name is not mentioned on the screen.

The story is that of a tomboy girl, whose father is head of a purty league. She is the center of gay life at a beach resort. Her sweetheart is a mollusks but in order to measure up to her standards he takes boxing lessons and develops into an exponent of the art of self-defense.

The climax involves a thrilling encounter at sea, in which Miss Kellerman is shown in a wrestling match with a ruffian beneath the surface of the water. Her sweetheart goes to her rescue and demonstrates that she has reformed him into a real man.

KITTY GORDON WORKS
OVERTIME AT ORPHEUM

Exhibits Her Gowns, Songs and Then Helps Out Her Daughter's Act.

The queenly Kitty Gordon monopolizes more than even a star's share of the "big time" on this week's Orpheum bill. She first appears in her own top-line act in which she is assisted by a pianiste, singers and dancers and several remarkably gorgeous costumes, and then she comes on again and puts in almost the allotted vaudeville span of 20 minutes in Jack Wilson's act, which follows hers on the program. The reason for her second appearance is that her young and handsome daughter, Vera Beresford, is a member of Wilson's company and she therefore has a motherly interest in helping things along for the Wilson entourage.

In her own act Miss Gordon displays her gowns and sings with rather surprising ability. She does not take all the glory to herself, but gives ample scope to Marvel, a young man who is deaf and dumb but dances to the rhythm of the air vibrations set up by the orchestra.

In the Jack Wilson act there is a laughable travesty on motion picture studio activities with Miss Gordon as the blue star and her daughter as the ambitious and temperamental beginner. Wilson is one of the best blackface "gaggers" in vaudeville.

John W. Ransome, who won fame as the brewer in "The Prince of Pilsent" is the star in a very clever little sketch called "Ask Dad." May Melville and George Rule exchange quips and dance in an act entitled "The League of Servants." Boyce Combe tells stories and sings, and J. C. Nugent is a monologist who gets the laughs. Page and Green are acrobats and balancers. The first moving pictures of the Olympic games in Belgium are shown.

BETTY FREDERICK AT EMPRESS

Vaudeville Star Has Posing Sketch —Joe Howard at Rialto.
The Empress Theater this week is offering the best bill of the season, with Betty Frederick in a delightful little sketch called "Wives of Men" easily running away with the honors of the show. Miss Frederick, who is a delight to the eye, has a rapid fire playlet in which she is ably assisted by Lester Mitchell and Harry Allen. Foley and O'Neal, two young fellows who can both sing and dance, were next in favor with the first-day audiences, and others on the bill are the Four Laurels, Meinotte Duo and the College Quintet.

Joe Howard, with his large company, in "Chin Toy," seen last season at the Orp., is the top bill at the Rialto this week. Others there also are Joe Darcy, Burke Betty, Ambler Brothers and La sing Humphreys.

POWHATAN H. CLARKE DIES AT SARANAC LAKE

St. Louisan Succumbs After Brief Illness—Was Aviation Officer During War.

Powhatan Hughes Clarke, 27 years old, of the Buckingham Hotel, died yesterday morning at Saranac Lake, N. Y., following a brief illness. His body is expected to arrive today. He was a Lieutenant in the aviation service at Rantoul, Ill., during the war, and in 1917 inherited about $250,000 from the estate of Miss Mary E. Boyce, a member of the Mullanphy family. He was a grandson of Miss Boyce's half-sister, the late Louise Frances Clarke, to whom was left the entire estate with the exception of specific bequests, mostly to Catholic institutions. His mother, Mrs. Elsie Clemens Clarke, with whom he was spending the summer at Saranac Lake, was the daughter-in-law of Mrs. Louise Frances Clarke. His father, Lieut. Powhatan Clarke, who was a cavalry officer, was drowned in the Little Big Horn River during an Indian campaign, about 25 years ago. The telegram announcing Clarke's death did not state the nature of his illness, but several St. Louis friends had heard that he recently suffered an attack of pneumonia.

WOMEN GO TO POLLS IN RAIN TO CAST FIRST VOTE IN STATE

Men Outnumber Them in Early Balloting in Hannibal City Council Election.

HANNIBAL, Mo., Aug. 31.—Women went to the polls in Hannibal today in a steady downpour rain to cast their first vote in Missouri. A special election to fill a vacancy in the City Council furnished the opportunity. In the early voting the men outnumbered the women two to one. When 32 ballots had been cast 11 women had voted. Mrs. Lacy M. Byrum, wife of Morris K. Byrum, a young business man, was the first woman to vote, appearing at the polls soon after 7 o'clock. W. H. McDonald, formerly a Captain in the Thirty-fifth Division, is the Democratic nominee, while his Republican opponent is Francis N. Smith, a railroad machinist.

PLAYGROUND FESTIVAL IS POSTPONED BECAUSE OF RAIN

The attendance at the playgrounds festival has increased each year. Park Commissioner Pape expects 10,000 to participate in this year's event.

REFUGEES' SURRENDER REFUSED

Japanese Legation at Peking Denies Request of Chinese.
By the Associated Press.
PEKING, Aug. 31.—The Japanese legation here, replying today to the request of the Chinese Foreign Office for the extradition of members of the Anfu, or military group, who have taken refuge in the Japanese legation, refuses to surrender the men. The Japanese note says that as the request was issued on political grounds and the legation is giving them refuge as political offenders, the legation is not in a position to comply with the request for extradition irrespective of any crime that may be charged.

HARA CRITICISES THE LEAGUE

Japanese Premier Says It Accentuates International Friction.
By the Associated Press.
TOKIO, Aug. 31.—Considering conditions as a whole, there is nothing warranting extreme pessimism in Japan's economic outlook, and matters will right themselves in due course of time, according to the opinion expressed by Premier Hara, addressing the Seiyu-Kai Constitutional party.

Turning his attention to politics, the Premier said the League of Nations had been brought into existence, but instead of making the world live in peace following the great war, it seemed to have accentuated international friction. The economic competition among nations "under such circumstances will not be easy for Japan, as one of the five great Powers, to maintain its prestige or promote its national interests," he said. Japan should not remain satisfied with small success, the Premier continued.

SEVENTEENTH WARD DEMOCRATIC CLUB IS RAIDED AGAIN

"Regular" Call Is Paid by Police and 13 Men, Playing Pool and Billiards, Are Put Under Arrest.

Police of the Laclede Avenue District made a "regular" raid at 9 o'clock last night of the Seventeenth Ward Democratic Club, 2934A Olive street, using the key which Lawrence P. Daly, committeeman of that ward and head of the club, left with Capt. Tierney three months ago. They found James Carroll, manager of the club, and 12 others playing pool and billiards and arrested them. They gave bond at the Laclede Avenue Station. Capt. Tierney said no evidence of gambling was found.

Capt. Tierney's men have raided the club three times since Aug. 23. He says he is going to keep on raiding it as long as there is talk of gambling there.

When Val Kemper was arrested on Aug. 23, charged with embezzling $1450 from the Julius Haller Real Estate Co. for which he was a collector, he said he lost the money at dice at the Seventeenth Ward Club. That night the gambling squad raided the club and arrested 26 men. They were discharged.

After the gambling squad raids a place, calling the attention of the Captain of the district, he is supposed to keep that place free from gambling or do some explaining. Capt. Tierney's men raided it two nights later and again last Saturday night, and the third time last night.

There was talk three months ago of gambling at the club and Daly, who was then chairman of the Democratic City Committee, gave a key to Capt. Tierney and told him there was no gambling there and the police were welcome at all times. The key is carried by the Sergeants, who are supposed to look in a time or two each night.

Capt. Tierney's men also raided the Cox-Roosevelt Club at 2231A Chestnut street. They found five negroes there, but no dice. The negroes were arrested and gave bond.

BROTHERS INVOLVED IN MONEY TROUBLE WITH AUSTIN PECK

Both Junior and Senior Members of Brokerage Firm Accused of Operating Confidence Game.

Robert Peck, 25 years old, residing at the Maryland Hotel, junior member of Peck & Co., a stock brokerage concern in the Merchants-Laclede building, has become involved in the financial difficulties of his brother, Austin Peck, 25 years old, also living at the Maryland Hotel, who was charged with embezzlement and false pretenses in three informations issued by the Circuit Attorney since Aug. 18 last.

The brothers were arrested at the hotel at 5 p. m. yesterday on a warrant charging them with operating a confidence game. The warrant was sworn out at Carlinville, the county seat of Macoupin County, Ill., by Jordan Eilers, a grocer of Gillespie, Ill., who had previously charged Austin Peck with having embezzled stocks valued at $10,000.

The Pecks were taken to Central Police Station, where they furnished bond returnable in the Court of Criminal Correction, Sept. 7. Fugitive warrants will be applied for against them pending application by the Sheriff of Macoupin County for extradition papers.

Two informants charging embezzlement and one charging false pretenses, issued against Austin Peck, involve a total of $16,188.70. Robert Peck was not mentioned in any of the transactions until the warrant at Carlinville was issued.

Eilers complained that stocks entrusted by him to Austin Peck, to have exchanged for other securities, were withheld by Peck and that no accounting of the transaction was ever rendered by the company.

The Peck brothers could not be reached at their office today for a statement.

PONTIAC BUILDING SELECTED AS DEMOCRATIC HEADQUARTERS

State Committee to Occupy Offices in Same Structure as City Organization.

The Democratic State Committee headquarters, which are being moved from Kansas City to St. Louis under authority of a resolution adopted by the State Committee Wednesday, will be on the eighth floor of the Pontiac Building, Seventh and Market streets.

The Democratic City Committee has headquarters on the fourth floor of the Pontiac Building, which was selected by the State organization that it might be in close contact with the City Committee during the campaign.

TAKES POISON IN RESTAURANT

Woman Removed to City Hospital After Swallowing Tablets.

Mrs. Marie Phillips, 27 years old, 1423 Market street, was taken from a Chinese restaurant at 8 North Seventeenth street to the city hospital suffering from poison, at 8 p. m. yesterday, after she had swallowed several tablets while seated at a table in the place. She refused to tell why, and refused to give any information about herself. From papers found in her possession police say they learned her home was at 329 North Nineth street, Muncie, Ind. Her condition was said to be serious.

KOELN RAISED $1500 CREDITED TO DAVIS

City Collector Says Republican
City Committee Statement
Is in Error.

City Collector Koeln today said that he had raised and turned over to George W. Strodtman, former treasurer, now chairman of the Republican City Committee, the $1500 which Strodtman, in his statement filed with the Recorder of Deeds yesterday, had credited to Dwight F. Davis, defeated Republican candidate for United States Senator.

Koeln, who was one of Davis' principal backers, said that Strodtman, last March, had asked him to "raise some money," as the City Committee was "hard up." He said that in response to that request he had raised $2000, which he had given to Strodtman. He assumed the reason the other $500 had not been listed was that it had not yet been used.

Davis knew nothing of the funds and he had not picked out friends of Davis in making his collections, Koeln said.

Total Receipts $4347.

Strodtman's statement covered the period from April 26, 1919, to Aug. 31, 1920. It showed total receipts of $4347.11 and expenditures of $3942.66, explaining that there had been a balance on hand at the beginning of the period of $1672.66.

No mention of the $1500 referred to appeared in the list of expenditures filed in Washington by Davis, who could not be reached for a statement as to the matter, because of his absence from the city. Strodtman could not be reached for a statement.

Among the contributions listed was one for $500 from Strodtman himself, who recently was elected chairman of the committee. Strodtman also loaned the committee $1000, but was repaid. Other contributors included Alderman Edward Scholl, $500; James A. Hooker, Director of Public Utilities, $100; Alderman William Tamme, $100.

Sheriff George P. Weinbrenner, who was a candidate for the Republican nomination for Public Administrator, reported expenditures of $233. Included in this was $300 for distribution of "Republican Citizens' Committee" ballots.

Anton Schuler, Republican City Committeeman from the Sixth Ward, reported he expended $563 in his unsuccessful race for the Republican nomination for City Treasurer.

Circuit Judge George H. Shields, who was defeated for renomination on the Republican ticket, reported he expended $224.11, and Robert H. Merryman, defeated candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, reported expenditures amounting to $492.25.

LONGSHOREMEN OUT AT BOSTON

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—The strike of longshoremen against steamships and marine companies under the British flag, in protest against the English attitude toward Ireland, was extended to this city today when three women pickets induced the crew of 60 men to quit work on the Leyland liner Nitonian, loading for London.

At the offices of the Longshoremen's Union it was said that no strike of their members had been authorized.

PASSENGERS ON M. K. AND T. TRAIN DELAYED TWO HOURS

They Complain That Engine Was Taken to Haul Private Car of Charles Schwab, Steel Man.

Passengers on a Missouri, Kansas & Texas train, which arrived in St. Louis more than four hours late yesterday afternoon, causing them to miss Northern and Eastern connections, complained that they were compelled to spend nearly two hours at Mokane, Okla., for another engine when the train's regular locomotive was used to pull away the private car of Charles Schwab, the steel magnate, who was in a hurry to get to his Eastern destination.

C. R. McDonald, assistant to the receiver of the railroad, explained today that Schwab was not responsible for the delay. When the train to which Schwab's private car was attached reached Mokane, it was found that the engine was no longer capable of drawing the train of 10 or 12 cars, McDonald said, and it was coupled to Schwab's car and a baggage car. Schwab paying for the service the same as if he had chartered a special train.

The time consumed in getting another engine for the rest of the train would not have been shortened, McDonald said, if Schwab had not been there. Schwab reached St. Louis at 11:35 a. m., and the regular train got here at 1:15 p. m. The train was due here at 7:30 a. m., but was delayed at several points on account of engine trouble before it reached Mokane.

What Uniformity Does for the Cord Tire User

If anyone asked you what uniformity in tires meant, you would probably say—getting the same repeated economy tire after tire and season after season.

There you would put your finger on the most vital thing about cord tires.

Give the cord tire user uniform performance and you give him one hundred per cent of the cord principle.

Leave quality to accident and the result is different.

People will tell you that the United States Rubber Company has been making cord tires longer than anybody else. Since 1903, when one of its factories created the first automobile cord tire ever made in America.

But the outcome has gone far beyond the cord idea, great as that is in itself.

The United States Rubber Company laid down the most rigid manufacturing code that any tire has ever been submitted to.

Going into the jungles of Sumatra and developing 100,000 acres of rubber lands, which include the largest rubber planted area in the world. Starting uniformity right at nature's source.

Erecting a fabric mill devoted exclusively to cord fabric. Manned by specialized employees working with selected mechanical equipment from threshold to shipping platform. To make all U. S. Royal Cord fabric uniform.

U. S. Royal Cord Tires occupy a peculiarly separate position in today's vast tire market.

They are more sought-after than sold.

For their makers are more interested in protecting the cord idea through uniformity than they are in selling the name of a thing without its economy service.

The car owner who seeks United States standards in tubes is well paid in more mileage for his tires. U. S. Red Tubes. U. S. Grey Tubes.

Ray Sees Coming Star in Knipper
Sioux City's Youthful Golf Star
Draws Praise From U. S.
Open Champion.

By Edward Ray.
Copyright, 1920.
SIOUX CITY, Ia., Aug. 31.—R. E.
Knipper, who is only 19 years old and the youngest amateur of his class in this country, was paired with the man who taught him the golf
he knows so well, Mike Shestman, and the two of them succeeded in frightening Harry Vardon and me into the belief that we were in for another defeat. With a deal more of luck than I really deserved, we were able to rescue the match, and the final score was 3 up and 4 to go for us.

I am expecting that Knipper will do great things in golf. He left last night for the scene of the coming National amateur championship tourney. And no doubt he will show well there.

If you will allow me to predict, I shall say that the coming tourney at Roslyn should be, and very likely will be, the means of placing his name alongside that of such golfers as Charles Evans Jr., Bobby Jones, Robert Gardner and others of that caliber.

The Indians pounded three National pitchers for 15 safeties and won 6-2.

WIKAY'S COLUMN

Miske-Dempsey Go Just a Sales Proposition.
REPORTS from Benton Harbor indicate that one of the biggest sales-manship drives ever launched in the pugilistic world is going over the top with approximately a $200,000 total, on Sept. 6. The drive, backed up by literary propaganda being mailed throughout the country, is directly connected with the disposal of about 25,000 seat reservations for the Billy Miske-Jack Dempsey 10-round championship bout, Labor day, prices for the said seats ranging from $5.50 to $23 each. Ouch!

The ballyhoo man's sounding cymbal and his word-binding William of St. Paul from a boxer who was described as "through," less than six months ago, into a lighter of championship caliber—higher strength and fonder than ever.
This rejuvenation, we note, followed a retirement of Miske to a hospital, more than a year ago, from causes variously described as kidney, spinal and other deterioration.

If we accept the critical reviews and press agent quotations of Miske as fact, a remarkable transformation has taken place, not only in his physical well-being, but in his morale.
Miske's physique rejuvenation is visualized in his increased weight, that pounds in weight, where formerly he fought at 175 pounds. Let those who will believe that a mature fighter of 25 years profits by the accumulation of weight. History refutes this view.

What Happened to Miske.
But what we are interested in particularly is the psychological transition through which Miske seems to have passed since a memorable interview he had in 1918 with a New York sporting writer whose veracity has always been considered as 100 per cent.

On the occasion in question Miske and Dempsey were to have fought a benefit bout at Madison Square garden. It was announced as "for blood," and Miske begged for this engagement for the reason that Robert Edgren stated at the time,
he (Miske) feared to be knocked out.

Edgren, two weeks ago, in a signed story, referred to the incident in the following words:
"I know I'm going to get a terrible panning," Mr. Edgren," said Miske, "but I can't help it. Labor day rather be panned than knocked out, and Dempsey is going to knock me out. You have heard how hard that fellow hits. He's matched with Fulton now and he's going to knock out every body I stand up against. Dempsey is a rounder and two, and then he'll get Willard and knock him out. I can't stand the same way.
No! I'm winning fights and getting along pretty well, and if I don't fight him, I don't want it all for me. I don't want it knocked out, and I'll be knocked out sure if I fight Dempsey tonight."

I tried to argue with Miske, and offered to out the bout to him. He said: "I told Miske he could run away from Dempsey.
If he had to, use all his skill to last the short distance, as long as he could, and then he'd ring Dempsey, and made good his agreement. 'It's no use,' said Miske, 'that fellow can knock me out in half a minute any time
he wants to.'"

That was the end of the argument. Miske was out. He couldn't have dragged Miske into the ring with Dempsey that night. He was too pale, nervous, scared and unfit to fight. He said he was so worried over meeting

A Post-Dispatch Staff Correspond-

had no difficulty in winning from Snow, who is one of the leading players of central Massachusetts.

Oelsner, who opposes Josties today, formerly lived in Chicago where he ranked third in the official city

KING OF THE BELGIANS CHEERED BY AMERICANS
ANTWERP, Aug. 31.—Albert, King of the Belgians, presented the medals and other awards won at the seventh Olympiad to the winners in the athletic, swimming and rowing events at the stadium yesterday afternoon.

There was only a scattering representation of each nation at the presentation ceremonies. The few score Americans gave King Albert a cheer such as royalty probably never received before, it being an American yell ending with "Albert, Albert, Albert."

The Pirates, with Carlson and Ponder up, handed the Giants a double defeat.

SPORT SALAD

THE PASSING SHOW.
JOE LYNCH cannot come here to fight
With bantam champ Pete Herman.

So Pietro, on the scheduled night will battle with Joe Burman.
'Twill be a nifty workout for That great Italian German.
But should he lose this flistic war
He'll quite agree with Sherman.

The Yankees view with much alarm
Their batting star's condition.
A skeeter bit him on the arm
While searching for nutrition.
'Tis thought to be a hellish plot,
Concocted by some flinger.
Who in the Yankees' baseball lot
Unloosed the deadly stinger.

Although, according to the news,
The prices are receding
On clothing, shirts and hats and shoes.
And other things we're needing.
It seems no one has notified
The profiteers who sell 'em.
You tell 'em, shoes, my tongue is tied.
And therefore I can't tell 'em.

While scraping off our classic map,
Our wise and sporty barber,
Discussed the Dempsey-Miske scrap
That's billed for Benton Harbor.
Sallee: "It's pretty hard to choose,
But I've about decided
That neither one of them will lose
When all the dough's divided."

MONKEYSHINES.
See where Senator Harding is a reformed tuba player. Too us a tune in the phonograph, Senator.

As the Senator has seen fit to have his picture taken enveloped in the coils of a tuba, we look for Gov. Cox's managers to evolve something equally bizarre. For instance, a picture of the Governor playing a solo on the cowbell, his favorite instrument when a member of the old village jazz band.

In the meantime Gene Debs might give us a few bars on the cell-o.

All of which is enough to make a guy scratch 'em all and vote for Babe Ruth.

Just as Babe was all set to make his final drive at the 50 mark along comes a pesky mosquito and puts him off watch for 10 days.
On such infinitesimal things does the fate of nations hang.

However, as Babe has a month left he may still spot the mosquito 10 days and make the grade.

MINOR LEAGUE "WORLD SERIES" ABANDONED
CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—There will be no series this fall between the pennant winners of the American Association and the Pacific Coast champions, Thomas J. Hickey, president of the American Association, said today. Mr. Hickey said no agreements of terms could be reached.

Jackson Beats Delmont.
JERSEY CITY, N. J., Aug. 31.—
Willie Jackson of New York out-fought Gene Delmont of Memphis in a 12-round bout here last night. Jackson administered the harder blows,
but the Southern fighter fought back throughout.

Mahoney Beats Wallace.
MILWAUKEE, Aug. 31.—Eddie Mahoney, Pacific Coast lightweight, defeated Otto Wallace of Milwaukee in 10 rounds last night.

Dempsey 10 to 6 Choice to Beat Miske, Labor Day

$10,000 Commission Posted at Benton Harbor, Still Uncovered by Challenger.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Aug.
31.—Yesterday was a dull, colorless day in this boxing neighborhood
after the excitement of Sunday.
There were no storms, no sparring
by Jack Dempsey and Billy Miske, and no injuries.

Dempsey did nothing today take a five-mile scamper over the roads in the morning, although he was up as early as 6 o'clock and ready for anything. Dempsey looks every bit as good as ever. He is in the best of his condition. One cannot help admiring the wonderful forearms from which come his tremendous punching power.
Jack is so fit that he will have to be a bit careful about overworking during the remainder of the training period.

Dempsey confided that he weighed 185½ pounds after his average workout in the rain Sunday. And that he would toll only four days more. That means that Friday will be the last of his hard preparation.

Miske, who claims he has trained more than four days for a fight between this one, has tolled five months this trip, and is sick of it. The challenger appeared in his ring yesterday to please a small gathering, but did not don the gloves. He wanted to give the crowd a show, but he was tired.
He will have Homer Smith to box with and will keep going until Saturday, as per the Dempsey program.

Miske is weighing around 192 and wants to take off five pounds, partly by the drying out process. Jack and Bill may be only ounces apart when they square off.

BROKER EXCHANGES SHOTS WITH BURGLARS

W. S. Scott Fired On When He Interrupts Four Men Trying to Enter Home.

Walter S. Scott, 4450 Westminster place, an insurance broker, exchanged revolver shots with three or four men in an automobile who sought to rob his home at 11 o'clock last night. A policeman fired at them as they sped east in the alley, but they escaped. An effort had been made to "jimmy" a rear door. Scott subsequently discovered that the telephone wires leading from his home had been cut, preventing him from calling the police.

Four homes in one locality were robbed early yesterday by a gang who used a flashlight and selected trousers in bedrooms as a plunder. Those robbed were George W. Maness, 1235 Pierce avenue, 55 cents in two purses and a pair of trousers; Andrew Wilson, 1240 Locust, $2.85; Joseph Nixon, 1346 Pierce, routed by family awakening; and Lester Ogilvie, 5715 Manchester avenue, $1.50.

Other burglaries reported were in the homes of Mrs. Pauline Hirsch, 4214 Aubert avenue, jewelry valued at $125; Charles Axtell, 337 and 315 in clothing and jewelry; and Joseph H. Hirsch, 4245 Monroe avenue, $16 and a Liberty bond.

Silk dresses and lingerie valued at $900 were taken by burglars in the Princess Garment Co., 819 North Sixth street.

JERRY by MRS. JACQUES FUTRELLE

THIRD INSTALLMENT.

SHE was sweeping majestically toward the dining room when she met somebody else. They came together quite suddenly and without warning. He drew back and flushed, but she looked him over coolly.

"What are you doing here?" she demanded. "Same reason as you, I guess," he replied, "to see the fair."

She ignored the tone of raillery. "You take it from me," she advised, "and don't wait to see the fair. There's a man in our company just aching to knock the peeling off you."

"Unless I see him first," he laughed. "I know who I'd bet on," she flung back, "and I've got the money to do it with—understand? A letter from home, relative died and left me a bundle. See?"

"I'm a little near-sighted," he replied good-naturedly.

She started to pass on and then turned back. "You take my advice and don't go hanging around Bunnie. She thought she needed a friend the other night and she took you for one—for a minute. She knows better now and she's going to be married; too. She don't need you!"

He pursed up his lips. "Oh, very well," he remarked pleasantly and walked away.

She sought out an obscure table and dropped her chin upon her palm until she could regain control of herself. She was in a rage at circumstances and the endless fight she'd had all her life. Well, she'd win or she'd fight on. If the week ended badly, she'd drag Bunnie with her to be general bottle washer while she cooked. She would have to fight for the ring and she would help Sam fight for Bunnie just because she wanted to.

Once a curly little head had nestled on her breast . . . years ago the little eyes had closed and the curly head was gone . . . She hadn't loved anybody since until she met Bunnie, and if Bunnie loved Sam, she loved him too. But she was tired and worn and suddenly she realized that she was growing old. . . .

The breakfast cheered her. It was great to make the acquaintance of a napkin once more—a real linen napkin as big as a table cloth; to have a cute row of silver to the right and another cute row to the left; a water bottle perched on one side, and a real live palm on the other. And a menu card! In French, too! She didn't understand it, but the words looked so familiar!

She reached the theater first. Sam and Bunnie came in together soon after and then the others came straggling. She had a little talk with Bunnie after Sam had disappeared.

"Have you fixed it up?" she asked. Bunnie hid her face on Jerry's expansive bosom.

"Yes," she whispered. "We can't be married for a long, long time, for we must not be foolish, but we're willing to wait. And everybody who ever amounted to anything began at the bottom, didn't they? Sam will make his hit some day if he isn't hampered by me."

"Sam's face and finger is his fortune, and Broadway will see it that way some day—watch! He can sing, too, and if we ever get anything to work with, I'll teach him how to act. Then I want to see you keeping house for Sam. Dearly, the stage is a dog's life for a woman even at the top—you want a home, don't you? I hope you're going to be very happy, Bunnie, and when I come to see you, you'll let me rock the cradle like the old-fashioned mothers, won't you?"

"Jerry!" Bunnie reproved. You're getting worse than Mac for hoping."

It brought Jerry back to real things. She took off her hat, patted her hair, and stopped in the middle of the stage to clap her hands for attention.

"Now, Billy, old scout," she said, "Just kick 'Boccaccio' in the waste basket and haul out 'Pinafore.'"

"Pinafore." P-i-n-a-f-o-r-e—Pinafore. Not a baby's apron, but an opera. Have you got it?"

"Yes, I've got it, but we're not billed for 'Pinafore.'"

"You take my word for it, we're billed for any old thing we want to sing, and we sing 'Pinafore.'"

"You can't costume it."

"Can't? Why not? The men have shirts and pants haven't they?"

"Yes, some of 'em have shirts."

"Wear 'em on the outside and turn in the collars. There you are."

"But this thing is serious," growled Billy.

"You bet it's serious. And we're going to get at it just that way."

Billy snorted and folded his arms belligerently. "And you'll do as I say," she continued, "or I'll fine you—your dinner."

"We haven't any sailor hats," said Sam.

"Just look who's talking," she mocked. "We'll go out and chase little boys after the rehearsal. Here, I'm running this thing and we sing 'Pinafore.' It's tinkly and ripply, it's Gilbert and Sullivan—bless their dear old hearts—and it's funny! The cast is short and we can have somebody for the chorus—thank goodness!"

Billy brought out the parts and banged them down upon a chair.

"I only hope you'll have somebody for the audience," he remarked.

"Hope you get your hope, Billy. Here Sam—there's Ralph. Mighty little libretto, praise goodness. Now, please don't claw your ear when you're worried about the Captain's daughter, and remember your heart ain't in your stomach."

"That's where my heart is, all right," Billy put in.

"Now, try to act like John Drew, Sam. Loosen up your arms and don't get a ridge in your back. Johnny—Sir Joseph. You can make a bluff with the major-domo rig. The pants are white and the coat is black and wear the hat crosswise."

"That's just what we want 'em to do," Jerry replied, complacently.

Billy went down into the orchestra and reluctantly distributed the music, while Jerry paused in dealing out parts to yell for the stage hands.

"Here, give us a ship, can't you?" she called.

"Yes, just a regular ship. An ocean drop and never mind about a light house—we want a sail that won't tumble down on our heads. There are

"Sold!" gasped Jerry. "You or the house?"

Ought to have some gold braid, but the audience will never miss it if we're snappy. Oh, I wish we was in New York for just about two minutes!"

"Well, I'd stay there," ejaculated Billy.

"Now, I'll manage a policeman somehow for you, Captain—hey, Captain!—and a messenger boy for the cap—don't worry. The audience is going to sit up and take notice when they see this 'Pinafore.'"

"You bet they will," Billy declared, "They'll laugh."

some things that ain't funny. Cabin R., and ladder to upper deck—wish I had a trick ladder—mast and sail C. Hurry! Get busy!"

She had results in 10 minutes.

"Where's Charlie?" she asked. "Buttercup, Charlie. I'd like to do it myself but I can't take chances with Josephine. You haven't forgotten Buttercup?"

"Not on your life," Charlie answered.

"And you're all right, too—just the eyes, just the size, just the finger!"

"Oh, let me play Buttercup, Jerry," Bunnie interrupted, "and make it dainty."

"Charlie will play Buttercup, Bunnie, and make it funny. Now you can make Hebe just as dainty as you like."

"But the skirt and the bonnet, Jerry, were that trunk?" Charlie began.

"I'll get the skirt and bonnet all right," Jerry interrupted. "What's your waist?"

"Forty-seven," answered Charlie.

"Funny you keep so fat," she paused to remark. "Somebody jot that waist down so I won't forget. Now, Buttercup, come in on your ear if you can manage it. And Captain! Take care early and funny business from upper deck with telescope ad lib. Might I say, 'Can my eyes deceive me? No, it's—so and so—some local name, you know. Old joke, but it always goes. Don't crowd, boys. Shiny up there toward center. Now don't make me yell at you. I've got to sing this thing and I've got to have some voice to do it with.'"

Then the end of the chorus saluted her airily.

"No joshin', Jerry," he promised, "we'll be good."

"That's right, and now look cheerful. Remember this ain't no funeral."

"I hope not," sighed Bunnie in the wings.

"No talking, there, girls. We are all singing for our supper now and we want to give these people a jam-up, ace-high performance. Now, Billy, ready? Limber up, boys. We'll have a little George Cohan, if you please. Oh, here, we're not going to a fire. There's a difference between snap and hurry. Once more!"

One false start and then they got going. They had new life in their voices, too. Why, she could almost smell the salt in the air. Buttercup was an innovation. Jerry herself couldn't keep from smiling at the size of the boy and the coy ways he affected. And Billy laughed outright.

"Don't," warned Jerry, "it's bad luck."

"Yes, but darn me if he isn't funny," Billy apologized.

They got through the first act and were half way through the last when Mac burst through the stage door and halted in the center of the stage, "kicking his arms excitedly."

"What's the matter? What's the matter with the man?" Jerry bawled.

Mac began pounding his hat, and his teeth were chattering so the words refused to come. Jerry caught his hands and held them.

"Have you gone off your nut?" she demanded.

"What is it?"

"S-s-s-s," he chattered. Then he caught his breath and tried again. "S-s-s-s!" he got out at last.

"Sold!" gasped Jerry. "You or the house?"

He waved his hat at the house.

"Now what do you think of that?" asked Jerry, feebly. "You're not joking, Mac? Or crazy?"

He shook his head. "Sold—everything!"

"Sold!" he murmured. "Sold—everything!"

They smoothed him and soothed him until he could get back to earth. Billy climbed over the piano and joined in the hysterical chorus.

"The college something-or-other took everything," Mac managed to tell them at last, "and then they didn't get all they wanted. A good house tonight means a good week. Why, the week," he began calculating, "good gracious, it may go to three thousand!"

He looked at Jerry, awe-struck.

"Aw, quit your kiddin', Mac," Jerry reproved. "There ain't that much money in the world!"

She dismissed the rehearsal.

"I'm going to shop," she declared. "We're going to have clothes for 'Pinafore,' we are. Dress rehearsal at four, everybody—we'll give these people a show, Mac. Bless your dear old heart, we're out of the woods, ain't we?"

But Mac didn't hear. He was gone. He appeared later rubbing his hands gleefully and rocking back and forth from his heels to his toes and then the other way around, like the old days. He paid salaries, too, and that night the curtain went up on the rejuvenated MacNutt. He didn't know his own show. He wouldn't have believed it possible that a house crowded to the doors could work such wonders in people.

He found Jerry in a hysterical heap after the final curtain and petted her as if she had been a little child.

"Was that old clump out in front?" she asked, and when Mac looked surprised she explained how she had met him in the hotel.

"I hope he began running when he heard them encores," she went on, "and if he's got any sense he'll keep on going. Rotten? Well, I guess nitt!"

And the next morning when she came down to her breakfast she found Mac waiting for her with a package. Inside was a large, old-fashioned, solitary diamond ring. She slipped it on her finger.

"Now, no gush, Mac," she said good-naturedly. "Cut it!"

Peeping Pansy Fairy Tales

BY MARIE, QUEEN OF ROUMANIA

Pansy Learns How Orange Will

WHEN Pinky-Panky told her that Puzzles, the queer little man who came out from between the roots of the big tree, could answer any question, Pansy gave a little cry of delight.

Puzzles bowed, taking off his very soft hat. Pansy nodded graciously, and then, according to her habit, immediately began asking questions.

"Why?" inquired Pansy, "do you plant poisonous mushrooms? I hope you will not mind if I ask many questions, because I have come away from home to learn things."

"Oh, I'll answer your questions right enough, if I can," said the little fellow good-humoredly. "Let's begin with the first. 'Why do we plant poisonous mushrooms?' Well, first of all, because they're beautiful, their color gives us great pleasure; but it is not only that: We make things out of them."

"What?" asked Pansy.

"First of all, we make a 'ye out of them,' a beautiful orange color, that we use for staining our stuffs and the walls of our rooms; we are very fond of orange, it's a color that drives away the blues."

"What are the blues?" asked Pansy, "and how can you drive blues away with orange?"

"Blues is a state of mind which makes you see things in black, and if you have all your walls painted orange, you are no more inclined to see things in black."

"No, I suppose you are not," agreed Pansy, "but I would very much like to see your orange color that drives away the blues and puts your seeing things in black; it must be a wonderful color."

"It's the finest color ever made," the little man assured her proudly, "but I'll show it to you later in our rooms, we do not keep it out here. But come and I shall first show you how I cut down the mushrooms; they must be just the right size, or they do not give the best color." So saying, Puzzles led his guest to a place where many stumps of cut mushrooms stood about like small marble tables.

"When they are old like these," said Puzzles, pointing to some huge stumps, "we leave them standing, because of their beauty and also for shade, but when they are young we cut them. Now look!" and Puzzles drew his ax from his belt and began chopping away at a mushroom that was not yet full grown. Whittling flew from the trunk; the little man swung his arms about with extraordinary energy, and soon the mushroom came crashing down and there lay a large half-fallen red umbrella.

"There you are!" cried the little man cheerfully, "now come and see how near, but don't touch the skin of your bare fingers because of a poison."

Puzzles drew a pair of enormous, soft-leather gloves from his pocket, put them on, and then began carefully stripping the mushroom of its beautiful red skin, that came off in long red strips like fine silk. At first a skin underneath was quite white, but as Pansy watched it gradually turned first faintly yellow, then a little darker, till by degrees it became violently, gloriously orange.

"There!" exclaimed Puzzles, "you see you see! Isn't it a beautiful color, a splendid color, a stupendous life-giving color?" He was so enthusiastic that he began to caper about in front of the fallen mushroom.

"Yes, it's splendid!" agreed Pansy, much impressed, "and that color drives the blues away!"

"Yes, the blues and the grumps,"

And the answer came across the forest in glad voices:

"Our folly is so jolly. Our hearts are so new! We sing and we dance, We caper and prance, Whilst we're waiting for you; Mistletoe and holly, Moss, reeds and bamboo."

"I am ready, My hand is steady! I am here! Halo! Halo! The sky is as blue As my heart is true, Whilst waiting for you! Halo! Halo!"

MAXIMS OF A MODERN MAID

By Marguerite Moores Marshall

MARRIAGE is like prohibition; until you try, you never know how many cases can be found in either direction.

A man's idea of conducting a love affair with smooth diplomacy is to walk over a woman's heart with hob-nailed shoes, while he whispers "Sh! don't make a noise!"

A woman has begun to grow old when she had rather talk about her aches and illnesses than about the men she knows.

When a man who is spending the day at home can think of nothing else to do, he always discovers that it's time to eat.

Woman may have the right to vote and the right to propose, but for a long time to come man will monopolize the right to grow fat.

The girl who marries the man who has saved her life risks his asking, some time or other, "Why did I ever do it?"

There's one thing to be said for the summer love affair: if it can survive the ordeal of seeing each other in wet bathing suits it is based on more than superficial attraction.

A woman remembers her first kiss, but that which a man remembers longest is the one he didn't get.

Every man marries a woman to reform her—and then wishes from the depths of his bored soul that he hadn't succeeded so well.

An ounce of discretion is worth a pound of confession.

Black Pussy Visits the Old Wall.

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

I can forgive the one who's weak, But gracious, how I hate the sneak!

—Stripped Chipmunk.

DURING the middle of the day Peter Rabbit's lost little son took a long nap, safely hidden underneath the old stone wall. His new-found friend, Stripped Chipmunk, also took a nap during the heat of the day. When the little Rabbit awoke it was late in the afternoon. He awoke very much refreshed. For some time he sat thinking over the wonderful things that had happened to him. In a small way he realized that he had been a very lucky young Rabbit. He thought of how big and important he had felt when he had stolen away from the dear Old Briar-patch. He recalled exactly how sure he had been that he was quite able to take care of himself. He chuckled at the thought.

"I really didn't know a thing," he muttered. "No, sir; I didn't know a thing. It was good luck, and nothing else, that got me as far as this old stone wall. Stripped Chipmunk is certainly a fine fellow. He has taught me a lot. I hope he will come back. With him around to teach me I'll soon learn how to take care of myself. My, but I am hungry! I think there he sat down for a few minutes. First he looked up in the blue, blue sky, this way, that way, every way, to make sure that Redtail the Hawk was not sailing about. Then he looked in all the tree-tops, and a black speck which might be Blacky the Crow. After that he sat up just as straight and high as he could and looked carefully this way and that way and the other way over the Green Meadow. No one was to be seen. Very carefully he crept out to the nearest patch of sweet clover. He bit off a couple of leaves and then sat up to eat them.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

ONLY HUMAN.
When Jones misreads his Ouljee
(As often he has done)
And bets upon a Geo-gee
That never learned to run,
The niche in his resources
Moves Mrs. Jones to say,
That betting on the horses
Will starve them both some day.
Says she: "I hate to scold you,
But many and many a time
As well, you know, I've told you
That gambling is a crime.

When Jones gets on a winner
And wins an X or so,
And takes his wife to dinner
And then to see a show,
She murmurs, as she places
Her hand upon his arm,
That betting on the races
Can't really do much harm.
She says with approbation
Her conscience should deplore:
"You need the recreation
You ought to gamble more."

The moral of this lyric,
In meter brief expressed,
Is not at all satiric
As you perhaps have guessed.
We would not wake discussion
The female heart to vex;
It was not our intention
To slam the fairer sex;
The point that we would limn in,
Without too clumsy pen,
Is simply this: that women
Are much the same as men.

His Definition.

Father's present to little Johnny on his eighth birthday was a beautiful book.
"And if you find any new words in it," said he, "don't forget to ask me, sonny."
The cross-examination soon began.
"Father, what's an optimist?"
burst out Johnny before he had read to the foot of the first page.
"Er—an optimist," replied father, thinking hard. "Oh, an optimist, my son, is a Yankee, who buys goods from a Jew, hoping to sell them at a profit to a Scotman."—Houston Post.

"I read some figures to show that because of the number of men killed in the war there are now six women to every man, and I tried to get my six."—Birmingham Age-Herald.
